

Liability for content

Although we make every effort to ensure that all the information presented on our website is current and verified, we assume no liability whatsoever for its correctness, completeness and/or timeliness.

According to the Dutch Telecommunicatiewet (TCW), we are responsible as a service provider for our own content on this website. However the TCW absolve us of the obligation to monitor third-party information provided or stored on our site or investigate circumstances indicating illegal activity. While this provision does not affect our obligations to remove or block the use of information pursuant general laws and regulations, liability in this regard is only incurred from the moment we are made aware of the specific violation. We will promptly remove any content upon becoming aware that it violates the law.

Liability for links

Our website contains links to third-party websites. We have no influence whatsoever on the information presented on these websites and therefore nor can we accept any liability for their content. The content of third-party sites is the sole responsibility of their respective owners/providers. At the time we linked to third-party websites, we found no violations of law or illegal content on the respective sites. However, ongoing monitoring of the content of linked pages is infeasible without concrete evidence of unlawful content. We will promptly delete all relevant links as soon as violations of law become apparent.

Any duplication, processing, dissemination, or any form of commercialisation or utilisation of such material beyond the scope of the copyright law requires the written consent of the respective author or creator. Downloads and copies of this site are only permitted for private, non-commercial use. Where we include material on this website created by authors other than the website operator, we do so in respect of the copyrights of third parties, particularly by explicitly identifying all third-party content as such. Should you nevertheless notice any copyright infringement, please inform us accordingly. We will immediately delete any content upon becoming aware that it violates copyright laws.

To the extent that we do collect personal data on certain pages (e.g. name, address, email address, etc.), the provision of this data is always completely voluntary and will never be furnished to third parties without your explicit consent.

Please be aware that there are inherent security risks in transmitting data over the internet (e.g. by email). It is not possible to safeguard completely against unauthorised access by third parties.

We expressly prohibit any third party from using our published contact data for the purpose of transmitting unsolicited advertising or informational material. As operator of this website, we expressly reserve the right to take legal action against such unsolicited advertising information, for example spam email.
